

Lean Canvas

LinkShield AI: An AI-Powered Phishing URL Detection System

Problem	Solution	Unique Value Proposition	Unfair Advantage	Customer Segments
- Increasing number of phishing websites and online scams. - Users often find it difficult to identify fake or malicious URLs. - Phishing attacks can lead to theft of personal, financial, and sensitive information.	Build an AI agent using n8n and Groq LLM to automatically analyze suspicious URLs and help users identify phishing websites before accessing them.	- An AI-powered phishing detection system that not only identifies suspicious URLs but also explains the reasons behind the risk and provides actionable security recommendations. - Enhancing digital trust and cybersecurity through AI-powered phishing detection, supporting SDG 16: Peace, Justice and Strong Institutions.	- Initial promotion through family, friends, and college network. - Easy-to-use interface encourages user recommendations. - AI-powered analysis with clear explanations increases user trust.	- General Internet Users - Students & Educational Institutions - Small Businesses - Senior Citizens vulnerable to online phishing scams - Employees & Organizations
	Key Metrics - Number of URLs analyzed - Accuracy of phishing detection - Number of active users - User satisfaction and feedback - Response time for URL analysis		Channels - Website (LinkShield AI Web Application) - GitHub Repository - Social Media Platforms - College & Educational Institutions - Family and Friends	Early Adopters - Family & Friends (Initial testers and feedback providers) - Students - Cybersecurity Enthusiasts - Small Businesses - Senior Citizens vulnerable to phishing scams
Cost Structure		Revenue Streams
- Groq API (AI services) - n8n Cloud (workflow automation) - Vercel (website hosting) - Internet and cloud services - Development and maintenance time		- Premium subscription for advanced security features - API access for businesses and developers - Enterprise licensing for organizations - Partnerships with educational institutions - Cybersecurity consulting and awareness programs		